CHIANG NOW LEADS ARMY IN THE FIELD

Hands Over Premiership to H. H. Kung as He Directs Fight Against Japanese China Training 800,000 Recruits

SHANGHAI (AP)—General Chiang Kai-shek became commander-in-chief of the army and temporary commander of the navy Monday after stripping himself of civil administrative powers to concentrate on opposing Japanese forces. It became known simultaneously that China is training 800,000 new recruits behind the lines.

Chiang Kai-shek assumed his new office while Finance Minister H. H. Kung, succeeding him as president of the Executive Yuan, assumed the highest civil administrative functions. Other important changes in key posts and ministries were made.

The drastic shake-up, designed to stiffen military resistance and give Chiang freer play of his recognized skill as an army leader, was reported to have brought conservative elements in the government to greater prominence.

Chinese sources said the reorganization "disproved rumors the government was taking on a radical hue."

"There has been considerable speculation recently as to what political effect China's increasingly friendly relations with Soviet Russia would bring."

POLITICAL AMNESTY
The government decided to abolish all reformatories for political offenders and to release all inmates. This was termed as a step toward complete freedom of thought within the republic.

Meanwhile the Japanese were rushing their military campaign ahead, resisted but not halted in their efforts to force China into submission.

Latest Japanese gains were in rich Shantung province, where the invaders captured the important city of Tannan on the Fientsin-Pukow railway. Chinese troops blew up a bridge and withdrew across the Wen River, establishing a new defence line at Tawn-kow.

CANTON THREAT
At Canton, city officials threatened to destroy the populous port rather than surrender it to Japan's threatened south China offensive. This was another manifestation of the Chinese "scorched earth" policy of leaving all behind them in ruins as they fall back before the Japanese.

Forty Chinese fliers, distinguished by shooting down one or more Japanese planes, were decorated by Chiang Kai-shek at his field headquarters. Special decorations were pinned by Madame Chiang on pilots who have shot down more than five Japanese planes.

J. Bulyea, Edmonton Youth, Loses Life in Rockies; R. Hind Narrowly Escapes

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Helpless to aid, Captain Rex Gibson of Banff, veteran mountain climber and skier, watched a companion swept to death and another buried waist deep in an avalanche high in the Rockies, near Lake O'Hara.

Tons of rock and snow roared down the mountainside, near the Alpine Club camp at Lake O'Hara, and engulfed John Bulyea, young Edmonton student and his companion, Bob Hind, an ace Edmonton skier and mountaineer.

Bulyea was caught in the centre of the avalanche. Hind was near the edge of the slide and, after being partially buried in the deep snow, was rescued by Capt. Gibson.

Japanese Admiral Sees British War Flier Sought IN MANITOBA

Interior Minister Suetsugu Says Japan Ending Whites' Influence in China

TOKIO (AP)—Japan will stop British aid to China even if it takes a war to do so, Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, Minister of the Interior, declared in an interview published Monday in the review Kaizo, political magazine.

Admiral Suetsugu asserted it is Japan's mission to put an end to the "hegemony" of the white race and declared a "general conflagration" would inevitably accompany the execution of such a task.

"To break Chinese resistance we must absolutely stop British aid, perhaps at the price of war," he said. "Can we do it? Necessity will provide the means. Why does England not want to understand the futility of its support to China, which will simply draw the storm upon her?"

POSITION OF U.S.
"I do not want to believe that the Americans, whose interests are not affected by our action, will be taken in tow by England to fight us if we face the latter, arms in hand."

"Japan's economic strength is greater than the Chinese and the whites imagine. Never shall we descend to the situation of Germany after the war."

Tide of Battle Sways at Teruel

Both Sides Claim Gains in Stubborn Fight at Spanish Town

BARCELONA (CP)—Government forces have captured the civil governor's palace at Teruel, one of the strongholds of insurgent units putting up a stubborn resistance within the city, it was reported here today.

A number of the insurgent defenders were captured and the remainder fled to the nearby Hotel Aragon, where they planned to put up further resistance, it was said.

HENDAYE (AP)—Insurgents today reported they had captured the town of Villastar in a swift right flank attack on the Teruel battlefield. Sharply conflicting reports issued by the opposing forces clouded the exact situation around Teruel, however, although it was known the insurgents had recaptured part or all of Teruel.

The action around Teruel, 135 miles east of Madrid, has developed into one of the fiercest battles of the Spanish civil war and, with close to 200,000 troops engaged, its outcome may have a decisive effect on the final result of the 17-month-old conflict.

One main centre of operations was around Muela de Teruel, settlement 14 miles southwest of Teruel, where Gen. Franco's infantry struggled in the deep snow

FLIER SOUGHT IN MANITOBA

M. Sawchyn, Youth, and Plane Missing Four Days in National Park

SIFTON, Man. (CP)—A search plane flew today over the lonely areas of Riding Mountain National Park, 25 miles south of here, to discover the fate of Michael (Spud) Sawchyn, 22-year-old Sifton flier, missing with his newly-purchased aircraft since Thursday.

Sawchyn bought the plane in Souris, in southwestern Manitoba, and left on the 125-mile flight north to Sifton Thursday afternoon. He was last reported seen by Forest Ranger John Hyska flying over Gunn Lake in an isolated section of the park, 70 miles north of Brandon.

Pilot Jack Herriot of Mid-Canadian Airways took off from Winnipeg today on the search flight with Douglas Harper as co-pilot and Gordon Brade, manager of the Mid-Canadian Company.

Safe Is Stolen In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—City police today sought burglars who carried off a small safe from the Canadian Window Bakery here Sunday. The exact amount of money in the safe was not known, but it was believed less than $100.

Madrid advices said the blitzard was the worst Spain has seen in 20 years and that many soldiers had frozen to death.

U.S. IMPORTED SILVER STEADY

Government Still Pays 45 Cents While Cutting Domestic to 64.64

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Treasury continued today to pay 45 cents per ounce for foreign silver.

Mining circles had wondered whether this price, which has been unchanged in the last year, would be altered since President Roosevelt last Friday reduced from 77.57 to 64.64 cents per ounce the price the treasury pays for newly-mined domestic silver.

INDUSTRIAL SILVER
NEW YORK (AP)—The newly-established industrial base price for imported silver was boosted 1/2 cent to 44 cents an ounce today by Handy and Harman, bullion dealers.

Three Baby Boys Main "Firsts" In Victoria In 1938

Three new citizens—all boys—arrived to take their place at the top of the list of the first events in Victoria of 1938.

The first arrival of the new year was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simpson of 145 Sims Avenue, Saanich. He made his appearance at the Jubilee Hospital at 4.18 a.m. New Year's Day, weighing 7 pounds 12 1/2 ounces.

Next was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Drakos of 1016 Fairfield Road. He arrived at St. Joseph's Hospital at 8.20 a.m. and weighed 7 pounds 15 1/2 ounces.

The third of the new citizens also opened his eyes and greeted the world at St. Joseph's Hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones of 411 Young Street, James Bay, and he weighed 6 pounds 13 ounces.

FIRST WEDDING
The first wedding reported in the New Year was that of Archie MacBride and Miss May Ryles at the Belmont United Church at 8 in the evening.

Grant MacDonald, photographer, was the first motorist to have his car stolen in the new year. It was taken late Saturday night or early Sunday from Yates and Blanshard Streets, and was recovered Sunday night at 8 on King's Road. One wheel was missing.

The first police record of the new year was the notation that W. Calladine of the Columbia Theatre left a bag of money with the police for safe keeping.

The fire department's first call was to a false alarm at Simcoe Street. Department officials suspect a merry-maker was responsible.

In the year's first accident there were apparently no personal injuries. The car ran into a garage at 598 Speed Avenue, owned by George Hoyt, 1024 McGregor Avenue. The garage was damaged.

Slight Swing Seen On Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange worked a little higher following reports of President Roosevelt's message to the United States Congress in Wall Street today.

Later, prices slid back somewhat and moved indecisively. Throughout the day the market was dull.

Mayor, Aldermen and Trustees Take Oaths; Council Meets Tonight

Mayor Andrew McGavin, together with aldermen newly elected and those returned to office as well as new and re-elected school trustees, were sworn in before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court today.

Mayor McGavin took the oath first, declaring himself qualified for office and free of any illegal agreements with the city, before stating his desire to follow faithfully the duties of a mayor and to give complete allegiance to the King.

He was followed in turn by Aldermen R. A. C. Dewar, Ed. Williams and S. H. Okell, before the two new members, Burges J. Gadsden and William H. Davies were sworn.

Trustees W. E. Staneland and John Wallace, who were re-elected, were the first members of the school board to participate in the ceremony. W. P. Marchant and F. G. Mulliner followed.

"It gives me great pleasure to hand you the seal of the city. I trust you will have the same cooperation as you did last year, and that your work may meet with as great success," Judge Shandley said to the mayor as he turned over the seal.

"Thank you, Your Honor. It is my intention to do my best and carry on," the mayor replied.

Prior to the ceremony, the judge apologized for keeping the officials waiting for 25 minutes. At the conclusion of the function, the mayor and aldermen proceeded to a studio for their annual picture.

Tonight they will gather for the inaugural meeting of the year, when the mayor's official speech will be delivered and standing committees appointed. The session has been called for 8 p.m.

The school trustees will meet at the same hour on Wednesday evening for the first meeting. A large gallery is expected to attend tonight's council session at which members of the police commission will most likely be appointed. Two aldermen will be chosen by their fellow members of the council to join the mayor on that board.

FLEE FIRE IN NIGHT ROBES

One Couple Has Narrow Escape When Apartment Takes Fire in Fairfield

Mr. and Mrs. J. Maltman narrowly escaped being seriously burned early yesterday morning when the top floor of the apartment building, 1148 Oscar Street, in which they reside took fire and they failed to awake until the flames had taken secure hold.

Several other occupants of the building were forced to flee in their night attire as the flames swept the third floor of the building and gutted the apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Maltman.

The blaze broke out shortly after 2 a.m. Sunday, in the attic over Mr. and Mrs. Maltman's apartment.

It spread rapidly, and before long had covered most of the third floor.

Mrs. Maltman was first out of the apartment and Mr. Maltman did not get out before his hair was singed as he ran through a flaming room to the hallway.

Firemen were able to confine the blaze to the upper story, although there was some damage from smoke and water to the other sections.

Several occupants of the building were sleeping soundly for several minutes after the fire started and were not roused until police, firemen and civilians rushed into the apartment to awaken them. Some doors had to be broken down to awaken them.

The apartment is operated by Mrs. S. Hoyle.

Arrested Youth In Critical State

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 17-year-old youth, arrested and charged with the theft of an automobile which crashed into a light pole here Friday and caused serious injury to Leonard Brett, 17, was in a hospital today with a punctured lung. Suffering from pneumonia, his condition was reported critical. Condition of Brett was reported as slightly improved today.

Youths Ducked As Canoe Turns Over

Three Foul Bay youths had an impromptu ducking in the icy waters of the bay on New Year's morning when the canoe in which they were paddling capsized.

They were Keith and Ronald Le Poidevin, 2104 Lorne Terrace, and Ormond Griffin, 1639 Pine-wood Avenue.

When the craft turned over Ronald Le Poidevin and young Griffin swam ashore while the other Le Poidevin clung to the overturned canoe until he was rescued by Harry Ward, 1941 Crescent Road, who put out from shore in a small boat.

As the slide swept down, Captain Gibson escaped from its path. He was not injured.

A search was made for Buley by Capt. Gibson and his companions. When it proved unsuccessful, he, both skied to Field, B.C., 20 miles from the Lake O'Hara camp, and reported the tragedy. It was early Friday afternoon the skiers were caught in the avalanche. Late Friday night, nearly exhausted after the arduous ski journey over snow-filled and icy trails, Gibson and Hind reached Field, mountain-rail divisional railway point.

Son of Professor Harry E. Buley of the University of Alberta, the victim of the mountain tragedy was spending the Christmas holidays in the ski district of the Rocky Mountains, 30 miles west of here. He was a second year student at the university, where his father is professor of dentistry. Hind is also a student at the university.

TRAVEL DIFFICULT

Isolated from motor roads and without telephone communication, the Lake O'Hara ski camp is eight miles from the railway, but to reach it a treacherous, snow-filled trail must be traversed. Skiers coming out last week reported it had taken five hours to cover the trail to Hector.

"The trading interests of the whites will have to be erased under the sun of Japan's mission. We are living through events which will have enormous importance in the history of the world. No one can say what rhythm they will develop. I am convinced that the yellow race will play the happy role heaven has reserved for it," said the Admiral.

"The end of the white hegemony will truly usher in the era of justice and humanity of which the Europeans and the Americans constantly speak."

"I am not afraid to insist on this point. If need be, I will insist upon it before the whole world. The white yoke on the yellow race must disappear."

"Naturally the rapid realization of liberation will bring a general conflagration. But we say that whatever precautions we take the result will be the same. A general conflagration. So destiny has decreed."

"The important thing is to carry out our mission without stopping for secondary considerations."

LIVED ON RABBITS

Recuperating at this end of steel town, survivors said that throughout their 39 days of near-starvation, they had full confidence they would be rescued.

After a four-month survey trip in northern Quebec's barren muskeg country, the party of 15 lived for nearly six weeks on the flesh of 1' rabbits after missing a food cache. The men wept with joy when found Saturday by Pilot G. R. Spradrow of Dominion Skyways.

Edward Paris, 49-year-old veteran of the north country, spoke for all of them when he said: "I had full confidence in my boss and God."

FOUND BESIDE RIVER

The 15-man crew had awaited rescue beside the Mississibi River near the Ontario-Quebec boundary. All were weak and emaciated when found.

Of his arrival, Pilot Spradrow said: "They threw their arms around our necks and cried."

U.S. IMPORTED SILVER

The increase following a lift of 1 1/2 cents last Thursday was in the face of President Roosevelt's proclamation, announced Sunday, cutting the United States government's buying price for newly-mined domestic silver from 77.57 cents to 64.64 cents an ounce.

At the same time the London firm announced a cut in its quotation on domestic silver to 64 1/2 cents from 77 cents to confirm with the government's revision. The difference between the official and the dealer's price arises from costs of handling, and the like.

LONDON MARKET

LONDON (AP)—The silver market advanced a little today, apparently unaffected by the announcement over New Year's of a cut in the United States price for newly-mined domestic silver. The quotation for the metal here was marked up 3-16 pence to 19 1/2 pence, equal to about 43 1/2 cents an ounce.

Department of Mines officials in Victoria said they thought the new Roosevelt move on the price of silver would have little effect on the actual production in British Columbia. Most of the silver mined here is at the Sullivan Mine, where it is a by-product, so the price does not materially alter the operations. Nor, with the world price apparently unaffected by the cut in the United States domestic price, did it seem that silver mines in the Sloane district would be hurt.

FIRST BARRISTER

Leslie Orville Baker, formerly of Macklin, Saskatchewan, was the first barrister admitted to the bar in Victoria this year. He was presented by Lindley Crease, K.C., to Mr. Justice Robertson in Supreme Court this morning and signed the roll as barrister.

The first communication opened at the City Hall today came from G. M. Terry and dealt with the decision of a recent meeting of city druggists regarding the proposed early closing by-law for their stores. The letter asked that the matter be referred to a meeting of the Retail Druggists Association of Greater Victoria at its next meeting.

A permit to cover repair work on the fire damaged home of Mrs. S. Hoyle, 1148 Oscar Street, was the first of 1938 written out by the building inspector's department. W. J. Drysdale is listed as contractor.

The doubtful honor of the first swim this year in Gonzales Bay was jointly shared by the LePoidevin brothers, Keith and Ron, and young Ormie Griffin, when their canoe tipped over on Saturday afternoon. Harry Ward, 1941 Crescent Road, effected the first water rescue of the season, paddling out to the lads in a small dinghy and saving them from further immersion in the chilly waters.

FIRST SHIPS

First oceangoing ship of 1938 to enter and clear from the port of Victoria was Ss. President Jefferson of the American Mail Line.

The President Jefferson arrived at Pier 2, Rithet docks, from Seattle, at 4.15 on the afternoon of New Year's Day, and cleared at 6 for the Orient.

Ms. Modavia of the Donaldson Line, the first deep-sea ship to enter inwards from sea, reaching Rithet piers at 1.30 this afternoon from Glasgow.

In the coastwise services the first steamer to enter was Ss. Princess Elizabeth, arriving at 7 New Year's morning from Vancouver. Ss. Troquois of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, was the first coaster outward, clearing at 9.15 New Year's Day morning for Port Angeles and Seattle.

First mail for many citizens was featured by a number of bills reminding them of the aftermath of Christmas and new year present giving.

FIRST FISH STORY

The first fish story of the new year is told by Ellbeck Wilson, who reports that while trolling with "Chuck" Rutan, well-known aviator from Anchorage, Alaska, in Saanich Inlet yesterday, he reeled in a seagull and grise on the same line. The gull got tangled in his line during the scramble for bread crumbs.

millions of sports fans for his vivid accounts of sports events, had covered the Italian conquest of Ethiopia and, since May, Spanish insurgent battlefronts.

With the other three correspondents he had gone to Caude for a first-hand view of the insurgent offensive which resulted in recapture of Teruel.

Two days before he was injured, Neil had cabled what was to be his last story, telling of the successful defence of the Teruel seminary by a garrison of beleaguered insurgents. He had told how "foreign newspapermen, circulating freely on the insurgent front, had seen warplanes assault the government lines."

He had seen the conflict in many parts of Spain. In June, on the night of the fall of Bilbao, he scored a beat of two hours by sending his story from a cable station which then was under fire. Bullets struck a wall a few inches from his head, and he remarked: "The story has gone! If I'm going I would rather go with the story on the wire than unwritten."

ROOSEVELT URGES PEACE ABROAD AND UNITY IN THE U.S.

"Our people believe that over the years democracies of the world will survive, and democracy will be restored or established in those nations which today know it not. In that faith lies the future peace of mankind."

DEFICIT DECREASES

In United States domestic affairs, a balanced budget is out of the question for the next fiscal year, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed. He said, however, his budget estimates would show a further decrease in the deficit.

Principally he asked for revival of the wage and hour bill, shelved by the House during the recent special session; enactment of the government reorganization bill, final action of the "all-weather" farm bill now pending before a joint House-Senate committee; continuation of the "none-shall-starve" relief policy, expansion of purchasing power to a point at which taxes will produce adequate government revenue, and modification of taxes without reduction of income.

NUMEROUS CHANGES

While he urged the adoption of many business reforms for the United States, Mr. Roosevelt said there were specific limits to the extent government could go in effecting them. He stressed the necessity of co-operation between capital, labor and government. "A government can punish specific acts of spoliation," he said, "but no government can conscript co-operation. We have improved some matters by way of remedial legislation. But where in some particulars that legislation has failed we cannot be sure whether it fails because some of its details are unwise or because it is being sabotaged."

"At an rate we hold our objectives and our principles to be sound. We will never go back on them."

VIEWS OF MAJORITY

Business practices which the President said "most people" believe should be ended he listed as tax avoidance, through corporate and other methods; excessive capitalization, investment write-ups and security manipulations; price-rigging and collusive bidding in defiance of the spirit of the anti-trust laws by methods which "baffle prosecution under the present statutes."

Placed in the same category were "high pressure salesmanship which creates cycles of overproduction within given industries and consequent recessions in production until such time as the surplus is consumed; use of patent laws to enable larger corporations to maintain high prices; unfair competition to the detriment of the small producer; intimidation of local or state governments to prevent enactment of laws for the protection of labor by threatening to move elsewhere, and the shifting of actual production from one locality to another in pursuit of the cheapest wage scale."

"The enumeration of these abuses," Mr. Roosevelt said, "does not mean that business as a whole is guilty of them. Again, it is deception that will not long deceive to tell the country that an attack on these abuses is an attack on business."

He asked businessmen and financiers to recognize what he called a "new moral climate" in the nation and themselves to cure such inequalities as they can without legislation while joining the government in enacting legislation to end others.

"The nation," he continued, "has no obligation to make America safe for incompetent business men or for business men who fail to note the trend of the times and continue the use of machinery of economics and practices of finance as outworn as the cotton spindle of 1870."

The anti-trust laws, Mr. Roosevelt said, "require reconstruction," but he reserved detailed recommendations for a later message.

REVENUE NEEDED

He again urged tax revision where levies were working a hardship on small business, but said federal income should be kept at its present level, abuses "must not be restored" and "speculative income should not be favored over earned income."

Asserting the task facing the three branches of government "faces us as squarely, as insistently, as in March, 1933" the President declared as to the business

Rearmament Going Strong

IT WILL BE SIX YEARS NEXT month since the World Disarmament Conference opened its deliberations. Strictly speaking, obsequies were virtually performed over that gathering in a comparatively few months after its inception, in spite of the fact that it was intended to breathe new life into it. Meanwhile the various peace pacts have practically been torn to shreds, while the Treaty of Versailles now is a document of historical interest only. In other words, the world has entered the fifth year of international rearmament—with 30,000 military airplanes ready to shower down death and destruction at any time.

The curious feature about this bald statement, given to us by the Aviation Editor of the Associated Press, is that the biggest unknown element in the international military picture is the Soviet Air Force, estimated to have as many as 4,500 airplanes ready for immediate use. This estimate may be too conservative or somewhat overdrawn. The fact remains—and moving pictures have furnished evidence in support of it—that since it was obvious the Disarmament Conference was doomed to failure, the government at Moscow has been busily engaged on a defensive programme of a magnitude which has caused considerable alarm in many capitals. The latest visible signs of this uneasiness lie in the German-Japanese-Italian anti-Communist pact and the wars in Spain and China. At least, the "menace" of Communism has been palmed off as one reason—excuse, of course, is the correct word—for the ravaging by Japan of China, and the support which Germany and Italy have lent to Fascist Franco in Spain.

At this stage, then, Soviet Russia is being described as the "biggest unknown element" in the international rearmament picture. But what seems to have been conveniently forgotten by those whose principal diversion is rattling the sword is that it was none other than Soviet Russia's Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff who made the only practical suggestion to the delegates assembled at the Disarmament Conference of 1932. He had the audacity to inform that galaxy of international statesmen that the only way to disarm was to disarm.

This simple proposal was altogether too much for the Conference. If it had been adopted it would have meant cutting down the perorations of shining lights in international diplomacy to the minimum. The experts in the design and construction of fighting equipment of all kinds would have found little or nothing to do. Nothing would have been heard of the fine points of warfare, the exhaustive discussions of the precise formulas essential to the doing of a good job of killing, whether, for example, the combatant should be dispatched to the hereafter with a missile fired from a small or large tank; whether it would be better or more humane to wipe out towns and villages populated by men and women and little children with fire bombs or missiles containing deadly germs—to disarm would have cut short all this elevating argument.

Litvinoff spoke out of his turn. He was made to feel like the young man who sang the wrong line at the Community Sing. So Soviet Russia today is the "biggest unknown element" in the international rearmament picture! The other powers asked for what they are now getting.

Honors Deserved

TO PEOPLE IN GREAT BRITAIN THE New Year's and Birthday honors lists are interesting announcements—interesting to the general public and of heart-burning importance to those whose names are included and those who think they merit recognition but who get overlooked.

Two names appearing in the list made public over the week-end belong to people who are well and favorably known all over the world. One is Lord Nuffield, rightly styled the Empire's greatest motorcar manufacturer; and the other is Gracie Fields, the former Lancashire mill hand who makes millions laugh and has sufficient mirth in her makeup to last for many a year.

Whatever may be the individual view of the honors system—it has long since ceased to be a public question in Canada—it is not out of place to suggest that Nuffield and Fields are entitled to a special claim of their own to such personal appraisal as is given by the sovereign from time to time.

Lord Nuffield becomes Viscount Nuffield. He is 60 years old and as he reached 'teen age he went to work in a bicycle repairing shop as William Richard Morris. Not long afterwards he established his own concern with a capital of $25. In recent years he has given away more than $50,000,000 to worthy causes—and is still giving.

Gracie Fields—who in private life is Mrs. Archibald Sellinger—is now entitled to place C.B.E., Commander of the British Empire, after her name. An orphanage in Sussex is one of her many practical philanthropic activities.

The two, Nuffield and Fields, as have so many in the English-speaking countries, came right from the bottom to the top in their respective realms on their own initiative. Doing good with the fruits of their labors must bring them more than ordinary satisfaction.

Swastika in Balkans

UNUSUAL SIGNIFICANCE ATTACHES to the Roumanian election of last week, because a dictatorship is a possible, if not probable, aftermath. In the voting Premier Tatarescu was defeated. His National Liberal Party failed to receive the 40 per cent of the total vote necessary under Roumanian law for a majority in the Chamber. Goga, head of the National Christian Party, has succeeded to the Premiership.

The Fascist and near-Fascist groups, although not strong enough to control, arise as the real victors in the poll. They increased their strength from 25 in the last Chamber to between 120 and 130. It is anticipated they will exploit their election success to the utmost and that Nazi funds will flow abundantly for this purpose. Tatarescu himself had been pro-German and elements in his following wanted a foreign orientation in sympathy with the Rome-Berlin axis. In fact, some of the dissatisfaction with the government arose from the neutralization of its pro-German leanings by the pro-French Foreign Minister Antonescu.

With Goga in power, advantage appears to be definitely with the Fascist groups, which are on the aggressive. In his first day in office, he proceeded along familiar Nazi lines by suspending the publication of three large Jewish-owned newspapers of Bucharest and by restricting Jews in other lines.

The international importance of all this lies in the fact that a reorientation of Roumania on the field of foreign policies will decide the fate of the Little Entente. The dissolution of this pro-French bloc of nations would give Fascist powers superiority over the democratic powers in Europe. The consequences of such a turnover can hardly be overestimated.

Of Dogs and Men

HOW IS IT POSSIBLE THAT MEN WHO can love dogs so much can hate each other so bitterly?

To say that in Spain and China men are being "shot down like dogs" is a slander. Perfectly gentle, ordinary men are doing the killing, men who love dogs too much to shoot them as they are shooting each other.

Behind the trench lines, Chinese and Japanese, Spanish loyalist and rebel, are feeding and caring for their dog pets, unaware of the monstrous inconsistency which will lead them out at any moment to kill their fellow men.

In Ontario, the other day, a 120-pound St. Bernard pup fell to a ledge on a 300-foot cliff. A dozen men, stirred by the beast's pitiful whines, spent four days figuring out a way to get to him. Then they formed a human chain down 40 feet of precipitous cliff, and at imminent risk to their own lives, dragged the dog to safety.

This men will do for a dog, yet for each other they have only hatred and jealousy and bitterness, delivered at the point of a cold bayonet.

Pommes de Terre

WAR OFFICE CHIEFS HAVE BEEN making a Homeric effort to build up the "thin red line" of the British army. Better food has been part of the prescription. Menus in French, too. Here, from a recently-announced army menu is "Filet de Boeuf a la Pompadour," with "Espagnol Sauce," not to neglect "Pommes de Terre a la Duchesse."

The big test will come when the Tommies decide whether it tastes any better than beef and potatoes. Any soldier will testify that the chow is all right if it tastes all right, even if he does not know quite what it is.

Notes

The year-end holidays in many places would have been still happier if carefree drivers had decided death ought to have a holiday at the same time.

Pictures show how Ethiopian tribesmen burned two Italian planes and their occupants. This is the contemporary style of beauty recommended by young Mr. Mussolini.

Paper shortage curbed Japan's New Year's greeting card exchange. A thrifty people ought to be able to make something of the treaty scraps in the war department waste basket.

FASHIONABLE AGE FOR MARRYING

From North Vancouver Review
In the last few years more Canadian girls have been wedding at 21, more boys at 24, than at any other age, but the average is higher because more marry older than younger. The age of the average bride is 23, the bridegroom 26. This is a little older than in pre-depression days, but not much; and the old difference in the age of man and wife still persists.

Dan Cupid still claims his victims, of course, across most of the span of life. Each year he strikes nearly 100 boys and 300 girls in Canada under the age of 18; more than 100 men, and 20 to 25 women who are 75 or older.

Cupid strikes a second time more often in the case of women, but not as often as he used to. Whether it is that experience teaches differently or whether they just can't afford it, we don't know; but a much smaller proportion of widows and widowers are remarrying now than did 10 years ago.

Parallel Thoughts

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

CHEERFUL THOUGHT

THIS IS THE DAY when people go about with a glazed smile on their faces wishing everybody a happy New Year because they are pretty sure it won't be. This is the day when sinners in the wicked city yonder resolve to give up their wild days, and rich men count up the last year's gains, and we out here in the country pursue the even tenor of our days, knowing that one day or one year is the same as another.

It used to be that people met a new year with a smile, with a universal expectation that it could not fail to be better than its predecessor. Lately, every year has seemed likely to bring the well-known End of Everything. Hardly a thinking man has failed to tell himself on New Year's Day that if things go on the way they have been, the show won't last past midsummer.

But it never happens. That is the great thing to remember today as you face another year—it never happens. That is the lesson of 1937. If ever there was a year when the show seemed likely to blow up, it was in 1937—two major wars in progress, British ships attacked by so-called "pirates" in the Mediterranean, U.S. ships sunk by Japanese, England just recovering from a constitutional crisis, a sudden crash in the stock market. But things went on.

The great thing to remember today is that things have gone on like this ever since 1929, and for the great majority of the population, as all statistics show, life hasn't changed much. For the bulk of us 1938 will be very much like 1937, so there is no use getting very excited about it.

The wise man will get all the fun he can out of it. Only fools will put off whatever they want to do until the world settles down. The world won't settle down in 1938. It won't know what we used to call prosperity. It certainly won't know any stability. But then, it won't know those things, as we used to know them, again in our lifetime, and the only thing to do is to forget about them and enjoy things the way they are. Once you get used to the idea of living on a volcano you can forget about it altogether after a while and go on just as if the world at large were quite sane.

And anyway, this is the only kind of world you are going to know. 1938 is the kind of year you can expect for a long time, so you had better make up your mind to it.

LAST DAY

THIS IS WRITTEN on the last day of the old year, early in the morning, in the first grey light, and the quail are just marching across the rocks outside my window, faint shadows in the dusk, and a band of seagulls is beating in slowly from the sea. It has the look of a dying year about it, and it is a good time to remember what you have seen since the year began.

They can be of no particular interest to anyone else, but I remember a lot of things about 1937. I remember the white chalk cliffs of England and the sweep of glistening green above them, and Dover Castle, and the little tramp boats rolling by in the Channel, and rusty in the sun. I remember the lined, lean face of an old Belgian woman in a doorway in Bruges on which was written the whole long agony of Europe. I remember the blue and purple lights and shadows along the Seine in the evening, and the way Edinburgh Castle sits dim in the mist, and the rich Cornish strawberry splits at Tintagel that are sure to give you indigestion.

I remember the swarming lights on the Danube at Budapest and the fat gypsy musicians and the ragged people from the dank slums, standing on the pavement all evening to hear the music of the cafe orchestras, and the little brown peasant boy with his herd of goats on the Hungarian plain who gave us water and watched us shyly like creatures out of another world.

And the smell of violets in a sunken English road and the smell of old Inns and the friendly smell of London on a spring morning. And the sound of London, the talk of Cockney draymen on the wharves beside the river, the sound of rooks in old English elms and the mellow talk of countrymen in the village pub after the day's work, and the fierce, savage roar of Paris traffic and the queer plaintive singing of flower girls on the streets of Vienna.

These absurd, irrelevant things I remember in 1937 when I should remember a lot of important facts. All the facts have gone, but the faces and the sounds remain—the shattered face of a French miller beside his dripping mill wheel on the Meuse; Baldwin's pale, lumpy, wistful face; the dark eagle face of Chamberlain; the King's white face in his coronation coach; Bennett's lively, explosive face; Mackenzie King's curious boy's smile, and Roosevelt's well-worn, handsome actor's face, and the dark pink faces of English children and the beautiful weathered faces of Scottish fishermen and the godlike faces of the young men in the Tyrol, hayfields, and the square, strong faces of Dutchmen, and the tired, downy faces of French boy soldiers, and the huge, brutal face of a German general—faces, swarms of them, that remain long after the bodies and the cities and the countries have been forgotten.

Best of all in 1937, I like to remember the way this country looked when I came back. The green woods of this island, the look of Victoria in the morning sun, the superb, rather austere look of something on Pandora Avenue which shall be nameless.

Well, they are getting ready out this way now to celebrate the passing of the old year tonight. Mr. Beak's rhubarb wine is ready, and so is Mr. Beak. On the other side of the hill, in the wicked city, the inhabitants are preparing to sing "Auld Lang Syne" in the embrace of perfect strangers so that they may greet the new year bravely with a headache. And somewhere the gods are preparing events for 1938 which would appal the boldest imagination, but will seem very dull and ordinary a year hence.

Millions at Stake For Power Barons In Political Battle

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

OTTAWA.

NEW FACTS emerge steadily into the light in connection with the current stormy crusade to have Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King lift the federal ban on the export of power. It becomes increasingly apparent that behind Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario and Maurice Duplessis of Quebec—destined to win hundreds of millions of dollars if the provincial premiers win and to lose nothing but the prize they never had if the provincial premiers lose—stand the international power barons who operate on both sides of the Canada-United States border.

It now develops that a part of the power which Premier Hepburn and Duplessis wish to export to the United States is the original block for the Aluminum Corporation of America, which private interests twice tried to have sanctioned earlier this year, only to be rebuffed both times by the federal cabinet. Now they hope to have their way by having the export application made by the premier of Ontario, on the ostensible ground that it is in the interests of the people of Ontario.

THE Aluminum Corporation is well known as one of the Mellon interests of the United States. The Mellon interests constitute almost an industrial and financial empire within themselves. Their ramifications extend into every phase of the economic life of the Republic. Power is one of their main concerns.

Consequently, with the disclosure of both Messrs. King and Hepburn that the Mellon interests have been present in every phase of the battle, the crusade which the private power interests have waged ever since last spring to secure the right to export power takes on new significance. And a new estimate must be placed upon the importance of the determined stand which Prime Minister Mackenzie King is making in the national interest.

The specific block of 40,000 horsepower which the Aluminum Corporation wishes to have exported to its Massena plant is not, of course, the vital issue. It is the principle of the thing which is at stake. What the private power interests of the Republic have their eyes fixed on is not any specific block of a 100,000 horsepower or so. Rather it is the huge surplus of 1,500,000 horsepower still unsold at Beauharnois. If the principle of the export of "surplus power" can be established, this huge store of energy, as well as similar large blocks from other Quebec sources, can be made available for distribution over the huge industrial area of the northern United States.

AS federal authorities view the situation coldly and dispassionately, they do not discern the slightest room for doubting that the present crusade in Canada for the lifting of the export ban represents simply a new offensive by the private power barons of the United States, with the aid of their Canadian brethren, on Canadian soil.

The facts, broadly, are these: The private power interests of New York State are engaged in a life-and-death struggle with the New York State Power Authority, a body set up by President Franklin Roosevelt during his term as governor. This New York State Power Authority, under its fighting chairman, Mr. Frank P. Walsh, is anxious to emulate the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission and become a huge generating body, distributing publicly-owned power in competition with the private companies, and forcing the latter to meet their rates. The difficulty is, however, that in order to make itself effective in the rate reduction field, the State Power Authority needs the power that would be furnished by development of the St. Lawrence.

The strategy of the private power interests of New York, consequently, becomes manifest. They must prevent the development of the St. Lawrence at all costs. And if they can secure sufficient Canadian power to prevent the State Power Authority from arguing that the development is essential if the needs of New York State communities and industries are to be met, they can conceivably delay the project for generations.

FROM the standpoint of the Canadian private power interests, the inducement to co-operate in the American aims is a simple one. The industrial market of New York State is a rich one. Immediate contracts can be made for a large horsepower. Quebec developments will become hugely profitable generations ahead of the time at which they were expected originally to reach their peak.

The essential condition is the securing of the permission to export. If the principle can be established, all good things will follow—for the power companies. So the private interests are trying to dress their proposition up in

 Is Bride of
 Mr. Archie MacBride

In the Belmont United Church on the evening of January 1, at 8, Rev. James Hood united in marriage Miss May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Ryles, Fernwood Road, and Mr. Archie MacBride, eldest son of Mrs. M. MacBride, Caledonia Avenue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin, with a long full skirt and with long-sleeved bodice. Her veil of soft silk net fell from a circlet of orange blossoms in graceful folds over her shoulders, and to complete her bridal attire she carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Her two sisters were bridesmaids, Miss Winnie Ryles, wearing a frock of peach taffeta, and Miss Iris Ryles in pink taffeta. The frocks were fashioned alike with long full skirts and slim-fitting bodices with short puff sleeves, and they wore mittens to match. On their heads they wore silver bandeaus, and carried bouquets composed of blue iris and pink snapdragons.

The guests were shown to the pews by Messrs. James Davidson and Alex McNaughton, Miss May Hick, the organist, rendered the wedding music.

At the conclusion of the marriage service a largely-attended reception was held in the Sons of England Hall, Broad Street, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Ryles, wearing a dress of brown silk crepe with hat to match, and by Mrs. MacBride wearing a navy blue dress with hat to match. They each wore corsages of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. MacBride left for Seattle to spend their honeymoon and on their return to Victoria will make their home on Caledonia Avenue. The only out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. S. Barclay of New Westminster.

Bureau Of Nursing Thrives

Montreal Service
 Proves Success
 After Year's Trial

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's first general nursing service bureau, started experimentally by the Montreal Graduate Nurses' Association on January 1, 1937, had a successful year and will continue to operate, Miss Flora George, director, said today. Experience has shown there is definite need of the type of service the bureau supplies.

Aim of the bureau is to provide those requiring nursing care with the class of service they need and can afford, whether that of fully-qualified registered nurse, trained attendant, practical nurse or male orderly.

The Montreal experiment grew out of a three-year joint survey of the nursing situation in Canada by the Canadian Nurses' Association and the Canadian Medical Association. Results of the inquiry, contained in the "Weir report" of 1932, showed that 62 per cent of patients lacked qualified nurses, while 45 per cent of private duty nurses were unemployed. Since 1934 nursing organizations all over the country have been studying the needs of their communities and the best way of meeting them.

Miss George emphasized that the bureau, here is still in the "spade work" stage, and is a long way from the ideal of the right type of service for everyone needing care, regardless of ability to pay. "Still, it is something that we are able to supply any kind of service required, within an hour, at any time of the day or night."

A new experiment along similar lines will be begun early in the new year when the Canadian Nurses' Association will open a model bureau in some community as yet unspecified. It will be maintained by the Dominion organization for two years and then, if continued, taken over by the local nurses' association.

Woman Seer Says China Will Win

Selassie Also to Regain Throne, Says Prophetess

GEORGETOWN, British Columbia (CP) — Predictions that China would win the war in the Far East and Haile Selassie would regain his Ethiopian kingdom were made in Georgetown by Madame Terferia Laila, professor of occult sciences. The woman professor, who met Mussolini in 1907 and claims to have predicted his future correctly said the Italian premier would not die by violence.

The seer, who speaks 11 languages, declared she predicted the election of President Roosevelt and repeal of the 18th amendment in 1934. The Vienna Freie Presse of January 9, 1931, carried an article in which the professor foretold the assassination of Chancellor Dollfus.

She said she had met the present Duke of Windsor before the death of his father and had predicted the Prince of Wales would be King for only a short time. Other forecasts which she claims to have made were the fall of the French franc, outbreak of hostilities between Japan and China, the stock market crash of 1929.

I Licked Old Man Winter

It was easy. I simply took a lesson from the chief engineer and now my home has the same uniform, radiant heat we get at the office. He advised me to get a combustion engineer to look over my furnace and pipes—and this, by the way, was free as my coal dealer arranged the inspection. The combustion engineer found a few minor defects and recommended Vancouver Island Coal.

Now I know why good dealers always strongly recommend Nanaimo-Wellington or Comox Coal. It's hot, long-burning, and costs less than imported lignites of lower heat value.

Boston, Canadiens and Amerks Win Hockey

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

MUCH has been written about the ability of the eight clubs in the National Hockey League and their chances to win the Stanley Cup this season, and so forth, but now the writer can give Victoria sport followers the opportunity of hearing just what one of the big league players thinks of the teams. And the rating comes from a home-town boy, Lynn Patrick, one of the leading forwards with the New York Rangers.

Before giving his opinion of the clubs, Lynn states it is one tough job.

"I will start with the Rangers. Personally, I think we are the best team in the league, but then, that is only natural. However, the other players I have talked to off other clubs, seem to think the same. The only other club they figure as good or better than the Rangers is Boston. The Rangers, when they want to play, can beat any team, but other nights they don't seem to try, and on those occasions they really look bad. Because the Rangers can play in the pinches they are my choice at this time of the year to win the cup.

"We have two lines, Shibley and the Colvilles and Dillon, Smith and Patrick that have great scoring power. We have the best defence and the best goalie.

"The Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Maroons are pitiful, especially the Maroons. The Red Wings only have one line. It was plenty when they were hot, but this season they have been bad. Aurie has never been the same since he broke his leg. Lewis has slowed down and Barry is the only one playing true to form. Goodfellow has been off with an injured wrist and with him out of the defence it makes a big hole and, as a result, it makes Smith look like just what he is, a fair goaltender.

The Maroons look to me as though they are having some kind of trouble (I mean personal or business troubles or something) as they don't seem to have any fight or fire. They look like a team not trying. Great wingers like Northcott and Ward can't seem to get to first base.

"Boston Bruins have a real team, plenty of natural ability and lots of fight. With Eddie Shore back to form, he is a powerhouse on defence. We find their defence the hardest hitting and toughest to beat. Dit Clapper is playing a great game since being moved from forward to defence. Their 'saucer-kick' line of Schmidt, Dumart and Bauer is going very good. They are all very young and are keen. Cowley, Gettiffe and Sands make their best line, and Cooney Wendland is playing great as a utility forward.

"Toronto Maple Leafs have a great young team which will be much stronger in a year or so. They have easily the best scoring forwards in the league, although the same forwards are not the best defensively. Their defence seems a little stronger than last year and Broda is playing fairly well, although he is not a shadow of the Broda that Foster Hewitt, the radio announcer, talks about.

"Chicago Black Hawks are not going to get very far, as they have not strengthened their club over last year. Americans have a real hockey team this year and will be heard of plenty before the championship is decided. They have a real good defence and as good a goalie (on his playing so far) as there is. With Stewart's scoring backing up Chapman, Carr and Schirner they have plenty of scoring punch.

"The Canadiens have a real fighting team but, somehow, I cannot see them as a real good team. Their team spirit and fight carry them through. On paper, they have very little, but let Cecil Hart pep them up before they take the ice and then try to beat them."

In closing his letter, Lynn said: "Well, I have done my best and remember, this is only my opinion of the teams. In closing, I still think the Rangers will win."

Bruins Win Over Detroit; Latter Lose Bruneteau

Forward Breaks Wrist As Team Goes Under 4 to 1; Chicago Beaten

Maroons Drop Two

WEEK-END SCORES

Canadiens 4, Chicago 2.
Americans 3, Maroons 1.
Americans 2, Maroons 1.
Boston 4, Detroit 1.
Toronto 6, Canadiens 4.
Rangers 5, Boston 3.

Consolation comes hard when world champions like Detroit Red Wings are groping around in a sub-cellar searching for just one win to keep their self-respect and finding nothing but grief.

There should be a bit of it for the Wings, however, in the thought that Chicago Black Hawks aren't so hot either. Beaten 4 to 1 by Boston Bruins last night and robbed of Mud Bruneteau for the season by injury, the champs admittedly are groggy. But they shouldn't be counted out yet.

Never too steady in this campaign, Hawks were beaten 4 to 2 by Montreal Canadiens last night and are still only six points up on Red Wings. With just a few breaks the Detroiters could soon fix that.

They can hardly hope to finish first in the National Hockey League's American division as they did last year. Bruins, riding high and seemingly capable of keeping it up, are too far away with their 18-point lead over Jack Adams' team. But there seem few good reasons why Wings can't beat Hawks out for a playoff berth.

DOUBLE DEFEAT

They seem to have a better chance than Montreal Maroons have in the Canadian division. Beaten by New York Americans 3 to 1 at Montreal Saturday and 2 to 1 at New York last night, Maroons haven't moved a step since they took Canadiens two weeks ago.

They are bogged down in the Canadian division—cellar with Canadiens and Americans tied for second place nine points ahead of them and Toronto Maple Leafs riding the top spot 12 up on Tommy Gorman's Montrealers. Leafs had a margin of five points for 24 hours after they swept through Canadiens to a 6 to 4 win at Toronto Saturday night but the Canadian and American victories last night sliced their margin.

Losing games has become routine with Red Wings and they might not have minded last night's loss to the section leaders so much if Bruneteau had not been put out of action. The Winnipeg boy fractured his right arm above the wrist in a third period collision with Red Beattie of Wings and probably will be out for the rest of the schedule.

YOUNGSTERS STAR

As usual the Boston youngsters provided the punch while their defence bottled up the Wing attacks. Bobby Bauer scored two goals; Porky Dumart got another and Bill Cowley took one too. Gordy Pettinger, traded by Wings to Bruins recently, assisted, on two quarters.

The only goal Wings got as they extended their winless streak to nine games was a freak affair. Marty Barry's long drive from left wing was caught by Tiny Thompson but the puck slipped through his fingers into the net. Tommy Gorman's return to the Maroon bench failed to prompt Maroons to any new efforts. They were no better than when the deposed King Clancy was piloting them.

In Montreal Eddie Wiseman drove home Americans' first goal in the middle frame and Sweeney Schirner and Joe Lamb made it 3 to 0 in the third before Gus Marker put Maroons on the summary.

It was closer at New York with Schirner winning the game by 3 to 2. Last year, last year, there were 25 challengers for

VANCOUVER IN DOUBLE WIN

Marks Up Two Victories Over Spokane in Coast League Hockey

Art Rud and his Spokane Clippers wish somebody would do something about those ram-paging Vancouver Lions that Guy Patrick leads in the Coast Hockey League.

The Clippers, starting off their first full season in the Inland Empire city, opened well and had a clean slate till they met up with Lions. From then on the Clippers have been clipped regularly and out of six games with the Vancouver squad so far the best they have been able to do is one tie.

And just to start the New Year right Lions rubbed it in. Playing at home they drubbed the luckless Redmen 6 to 1 New Year's Day, then moved to Spokane and handed them a 2 to 0 trimming, yesterday.

The double victory sent Lions well out in front in the standings, six full points ahead of the second place Seattle Sea Hawks who travel to Vancouver for a league fixture tonight.

TIE FOR THIRD

It also left Spokane in a third place tie with Portland Buckaroos who failed to guard a 2 to 0 first period lead at Seattle Saturday night and wound up with a 3 to 3 tie.

Red Conn sparkplugged the Vancouver attack yesterday.

After a scoreless first period he caught the Spokane front line flatfooted near his own goal, raced in on the Clipper defence and blazed a hot one that Sam Timmins failed to stop from bulging the Clipper net, in the last minute of the middle period.

Late in the third session Conn paved the way for Lions second goal, slipping the disc to Lulu Lennon who snapped it home.

Trail Retains Unbeaten Record

NELSON—Trail Smoke Eaters last night were still at the top of the West Kootenay Hockey League standings, only undefeated team of the six-team circuit.

Saturday Smoke Eaters downed Nelson Maple Leafs.

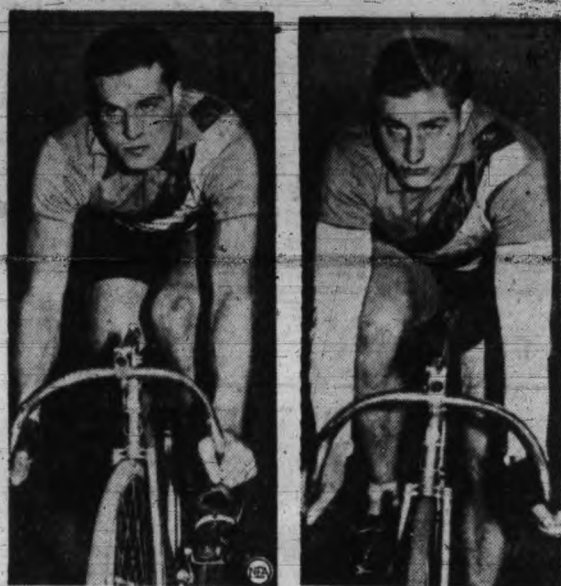

Canada Files Cup Tennis Challenge

Dominion Will Return to Davis Cup Play After Three-year Lapse

NEW YORK—Canada, which has not competed for the Davis Cup for three years, has returned as a 1938 challenger, while eight European nations also have filed their entries, the United States Lawn Tennis Association announced yesterday.

Entries for the 1938 Davis Cup play do not close until January 31, and officials considered the big early list an indication there would be a large number of challenges this year. Last year there were 25 challengers for Steadfastly refusing to be split up, Gustav Kilian, left, and Heinz Vopel have been practically unbeatable in six-day bicycle grinds for two years. The German pair pedaled out of a three-way tie to finish a lap ahead of the field and account for their eighth consecutive race in Buffalo.

Mixed Foursomes At Uplands Club

In the mixed foursomes played at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday J. V. Bodington and Mrs. R. S. Oliver were the winners with a gross score of 92, which, with their handicap of 16½, was reduced to a net 75½. In second place were D. Fletcher and Joan Fletcher with a net 76½.

BIG SEVEN OF MAJOR HOCKEY

Gordon Drillon extended his lead among the National Hockey League's top scorers to five points when he notched two goals for his 23rd and 24th points against Canadiens Saturday.

Playing twice each during the week-end, Sweeney Schirner, and Nels Stewart of Americans, and George Mantha, Toe Blake and Rod Lorrain of Canadiens entered a five-way tie for fifth place in the Big Seven with 17 points.

Though he failed to nab a point, Harvey Jackson of Toronto remained in second place, tied with Cecil Dillon of Rangers and Syl Apps of Toronto, who got singles.

The leaders follow:

Last-minute Try Gives Students 8 to 5 Win Over Golden Bears

VANCOUVER—University of British Columbia Thunderbirds broke a deadlock 10 minutes from time yesterday to whip the University of California Golden Bears 8 to 5 in an exhibition English rugby match before 2,000 at Varsity stadium.

The match, which saw Thunderbirds score a try and a convert in the first half and the Bears tie the score in the second, was the last of a two-game series between the Bears and local teams. California went down to defeat 8 to 3 on a field of snow and ice in the first game here Christmas Day against Vancouver Reps.

The field was in perfect condition for yesterday's game and both teams played open but unspectacular rugby.

Thunderbirds opened the scoring half way through the first half when Howie McPhee went over for a try after a 50-yard run by British Columbia's three-quarter line. The try, converted by Dave Carey, left Thunderbirds with a 5 to 0 advantage at the end of the 40-minute half.

Jack Sullivan, taken out of the game in the first half with an injured ankle, returned in the second to give California their only points. He ran 25 yards for a try and then converted for the extra points himself.

The game remained deadlocked until 10 minutes from time when Strat Leggett of the Thunderbirds went over after a short passing attack in the Bears' goal zone. Carey missed the attempted convert.

Three-way Tie In Hoop Series VANCOUVER—Ryerson and Stacey jumped into a tie with Varsity for top place in the senior men's basketball standings by winning their games on Saturday night at the V.A.C. gymnasium. Ryerson defeated Westerns 31 to 29, while Stacey accounted for Munros 46 to 23. The leaders each have 10 points, and close behind come Westerns and Munros with 8 points each, while Adanacs bring up the rear with 4 points.

SOCCER TEAMS Celtic In Rousing Win Over Rangers

Wednesday and Saturday League All-star Elevens Battle to 3 to 3 Tie

The Victoria Wednesday Football League marched its strongest and best-conditioned all-star eleven in many seasons on to the field at the Athletic Park on New Year's Day, and after a great battle finished on even terms with the highly-touted Saturday League representatives.

The final score was 3 to 3, which left the fate of the coveted Ansonb Cup still hanging in the air. Close to 400 fans attended. The midweekers dominated play for the most part of the first 45 minutes, and had it not been for the wonderful netminding of Goalie Wally Rowe, they would have retired with a margin at the interval. But as it was, each team notched once to end that session of play in a 1 to 1 deadlock.

For the first 15 minutes after the changeover the Wednesday League went to pieces and the Saturday all-stars, quick to seize the opportunity, attacked with zest and rang up a pair of markers within two minutes of each other to assume a handsome lead.

COME BACK STRONG

But the midweekers refused to stay down. Manager Cy Nicholls switched his players around a bit and they came out of their re-lapse with plenty of spirit, advanced to the other end of the field, where they kept up a prolonged offensive on their opponent's net. The week-enders, with Goalie Rowe and his valuable assistant in the fullback line, George Leggett, sharing the spotlight, managed to hold the determined Wednesday reps off for more than 15 minutes, but in the last seven minutes they crashed through for a pair of goals, to leave the score in a clinch.

To win the cup a team must amass four points. The Wednesday boys have three, two for the first victory and one for Saturday's tie and need another victory or draw to take the trophy. If the week-enders win the next game it will put both teams even-even and a fourth game will be necessary.

ROSS SHINES

Alex Ross, crack navy player, who operated at the centre-forward position, provided the scoring punch for the Wednesday brigade. He tallied all three markers. Outstanding, however, was Daryl Bissel, centre-half. He turned in a stirring exhibition of football and all afternoon popped up most unexpectedly to stem the opposing team's advances repeatedly with a sure foot and good headwork. Lloyd Cann, fullback played good on the defence. Wally Rowe and fullback Leggett starred for Victoria United.

Scoring was ushered in after 12 minutes. Worswick's shot hit the crossbar and Terry Peers took it to register the Saturday club's opening goal. Alex Ross evened the count a dozen minutes later from "Shorty" Collins' pass. This left the teams tied at the breather. Six minutes after the resumption of play George Payne crossed out to Noel Morgan on the left wing, who in turn gave it to Jimmy Worswick. His hot shot was true and the week-end aggregation took

Oogruit Eleven Ice Bowl Winner

KING ISLAND, Alaska—Monday morning quarter-backs were at it today—even in this far north spot in the Bering Strait, which furnished the cracked-ice for New Year's Day "bowl" games.

Two teams of Eskimos, coached by explorers, played in the ice bowl for the arctic championship. A strong Oogruit eleven, defeated a lighter Algrits, or Reindeers, 7 to 6, while the island's entire populace (186) howled along with a snow-storm.

Uniform used in the ice bowl game consisted of hooded-parkas, mukluks and sealskin pants. Helmets were parka hoods lined with layers of fur and straw.

CALIFORNIA IN FINE WIN

Defeat Alabama 13 to 0 in Rose Bowl Football; Santa Clara Vict.

PASADENA, Cal.—It's hard to prove anything by the results of the New Year's Day crop of United States "bowl" football games, except that the fans will turn out in great numbers at any time of the year to see good grid teams.

In every one of Saturday's contests, from the Pasadena Rose Bowl, where California's "starless" team conquered Alabama, 13 to 0, before a record crowd of 90,000 to the Miami Orange Bowl, where Auburn turned back Michigan State, 6 to 0, the linemen were the heroes. Rice forwards halted all American Whizzer White in the cotton bowl at Dallas, and carried the Owls to a 28 to 14 triumph over Colorado.

The forward walls also were the deciding factors as Santa Clara whipped Louisiana for the second straight year, 6 to 0, before a 45,000 turnout in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl, as the all-star east and west teams battled to a scoreless standoff before 59,000 fans at San Francisco, and as West Virginia beat out Texas Tech, 7 to 6, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso.

In the New Year's Day mixed foursomes held at the Victoria Golf Club Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pangman were the winners with a gross score of 92, which their handicap reduced to a net 73.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pangman	92	73

Canada's Athletes Having Fine Trip

First Word From Empire Games Athletes Tells of Life Aboard Ship

Aboard RMS. Aorangi en route Sydney (CP-via wireless)—Canada's Australia-bound British Empire Games athletes crossed the Equator today, 11 days out of Victoria on their way to seek Empire athletic laurels.

The 78 picked amateur performers with their Maple Leaf-blazoned jackets, found the mild trade winds excellent for the limited deck training they are permitted by accompanying officials.

Today they completed three days of community singing to relieve the monotony of ship-board.

Friday night the squad joined in games after a special dinner that listed 20 items on the menu. Last night they jammed the ship's ballroom for a masquerade dance with prizes carried off by Bob Rankine, Preston, Ont., distance star, Winnipeg's diving ace, Barbara Richards, Larry O'Connor, Toronto sprinters, and Jimmy Temple of Victoria, one of the four-oared crewmen.

The oarsmen, with the exception of Ken Jaggard, cox from Vancouver, all from Victoria, were invited to compete at Honolulu next year when the Aorangi docked there last week.

Score 3 to 0 Victory to Move Into First Place in Scottish Soccer

GLASGOW—Watched by a crowd of 83,000 spectators, Celtic smashed Rangers 3 to 0 in the annual New Year's Day fixture between the two great Scottish football rivals. The victory at Parkhead sent the Celts to the top of the league, Hearts being held to a 2 to 2 draw by Hibernians in another holiday "derby" at Edinburgh.

Thousands were unable to gain admission to the Glasgow ground but despite this the attendance was 5,000 short of the Celtic Park record. Great throngs milled around the enclosure for some time after the game started.

The decision gave Celtic a total of 33 points for the campaign to date. Hearts are one behind, while Rangers hold third place with 30 points.

Celtic's players fully deserved their victory. They were faster and quicker on the ball, the young forward line being especially prominent. Divers, inside left, sent in two goals for the winners, McDonald getting the third from a penalty after Simpson handled.

SPECTATORS DIED Two spectators died suddenly while watching the holiday games. An old man collapsed at the Queen's Park Third Lanark tussle at Hampden Park, and a youth died at Paisley, where St. Mirren entertained Kilmarnock.

Hearts ran up against tough opposition at Easter Road and Hibernians led at half-time through a goal scored by McIntyre. Davidson sent them further ahead after the interval but their rivals piled on the pressure toward the end and Biggs and Warren knotted the count.

ENGLISH LEAGUE LONDON—New Year's Day games in the English football League saw a shuffling of positions among Brentford's rivals for championship honors in the first division. While Brentford maintained its three-point margin at the top, Arsenal and Leeds United took joint occupancy of the second rung of the ladder with 27 points each.

Brentford was held to a 1 to 1 draw by Bolton Wanderers in a tight game on the Londoners' ground, while Arsenal delighted a big crowd at Highbury by taking a 2 to 1 decision from Everton. Leeds and Charlton played a 2 to 2 stalemate.

By turning in a 4 to 2 victory at Manchester, Wolverhampton Wanderers kept up with the leaders and now holds fourth place with 26 points. Three teams—Preston North End, Bolton Wanderers and Charlton Athletic—are tied, only one point in arrears.

Blackpool's policy in strengthening its team with two of Scotland's finest international players is being vindicated. The Seaside improved their positions near the bottom of the league with a 4 to 2 verdict over Huddersfield Town. Portsmouth also obtained maximum points with a fine 2 to 1 decision at West Bromwich.

Chances of Aston Villa's return to major league status appear brighter than ever. Following up their victory over Barnsley in midweek, the Villans drew, 1 to 1, in London against West Ham United, but the point put them at the head of the second division on goal average. Coventry City and Sheffield Wednesday, along with Aston Villa, have 31 points each.

BLOMFIELD IN MAT VICTORY

Defeats Abe Yourist in Main Event of Local Card;
Boesch Beaten

When a wrestler clamps on a reversed double-bar toehold, a reversed figure four, an Indian deathlock and a Boston crab, all blended into one hold, the result is killing pressure on the spine. That is the famous octopus hold of Meynell "Lofty" Blomfield, New Zealand's wrestling pride, and his victim Saturday night was Abe Yourist, New York. Blomfield adjusted his pet hold in the fourth and the New Yorker hollered quits. When Yourist was unable to return in the next session, Referee Johnny Peers gave the man from "down under" the decision.

They met in the main go on the Tillicum gym mat card and not for some time have local grunt and groan followers witnessed such a fast, thrilling exhibition of orthodox wrestling. At times both lads stood toe-to-toe and smashed each other with stinging elbow blows and indulged in other rough tactics. Yourist got a fall in the third with flying tackles.

Paul Boesch, New York, could not stand the pain from a double-bar toehold, and with only 30 seconds of the match left tapped the mat to give Ranjit Singh, East Indian, a lone-fall victory in the semi-main event. It was an amusing encounter and clean. Danny Dusek, Omaha, beat Dave "Bulldog" Johnston, Chicago, by the odd-fall route when they met in the special event. Johnston was his usual rowdy self and at times brought the referee in to make it a three-cornered scrap. Dusek got a fall with a Boston crab.

GALA DAY FOR AGED CITIZENS

Festive Dinner and Entertainment Given at Home For Aged Men

Residents of the Home for Aged Men on Cadboro Bay Road, who can look back on many pleasant New Year's days, today counted none more pleasant than the day which ushered in 1938.

They were "at home" all afternoon and a large number called to wish the veterans many happy days in the new year.

The dinner party, which was a gala affair, was enlivened by the arrival of the Landsberg Glee Club, under the direction of James H. Beatty and Alderman W. H. Davies. Stanley James, with his Merry-makers, Frank Pratt, Percy Fitzsimmons, "Jumbo" Davies and Lavery's one-man orchestra, provided an excellent programme of entertainment and led the party in community singing.

Several of the visiting aldermen gave vocal numbers and a duet by Councillor J. V. Johnson and Alderman Stanley Okell won much applause.

Mr. Beatty, introducing the visitors, paid tribute to Alderman Davies for continuing the good work of the late Fred Landsberg and to the entertainers for devoting their time and talents to such a worthy cause.

Alderman Okell, chairman of the Home committee, welcomed the visitors and thanked the Landsberg Fund Committee, on behalf of the City of Victoria, for the splendid efforts of its members.

Herbert Anson, M.P.P., a friend of the Home for many years, gave a short address, in which he struck a note of optimism for 1938.

Among the visitors were F. Armstrong, H. O. Austin, Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, Burgess Gadsden, W. Lloyd Morgan, Alex. Feden, Archie Willis, Ed. Williams, John Worthington and F. McMillan, G. H. Sedger, Andrew Sherrick and George I. Warren.

The student is also shown how to set doors, sashes and sash frames and stair building. The night school at Kings Road will recommence tomorrow evening at 7.30, to continue the instruction.

Junior Chamber Holds Big Party

Hundreds of Children Receive Gifts From Tree

Members of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce wound up another year of activities Saturday afternoon by acting as hosts to hundreds of children of Greater Victoria at a Christmas tree party held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Over 2,500 children and many parents attended to watch the delightful Punch and Judy shows staged by Johnny Gow and the fine entertainment provided by the Curly's Harvesters. At the conclusion of each programme of entertainment each youngster was given a toy by "Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus." M. A. Goodman proved himself a capable master of ceremonies.

The children started arriving at 1 and continued to come until 5, during which time six programmes were presented. Each performance took about 30 minutes and the auditorium was filled to capacity each time. The Victoria Police Department and the St. John Ambulance Brigade was on hand to act in the case of emergencies, but none occurred. The Shell Oil Company donated several thousand balloons and large quantities of candies were distributed during the afternoon by the many members of the Junior Chamber who turned out to direct the proceedings. Thanks were extended to Miss M. LaLonde, who made a charming Mrs. Santa Claus, and G. Dyson, who was in the role of Father Christmas. His short talk at each performance won the hearts of all the children.

"CAMILLE" ON PLAZA SCREEN

Greta Garbo and Robert Taylor Teamed in Film Classic

Garbo's statuesque reflections dance upon the shimmering waters of a purple pool in "Camille," which comes to the Plaza Theatre today for three days.

After weeks of photographic experiments the purple pool was perfected by Art Director Cedric Gibbons and Cameraman William Daniels and built in the studio park for beautiful pastoral scenes with Garbo and Robert Taylor in the Alexandre Dumas (fil) classic.

"We began our experiments for the recording of perfect water reflections on photographic film in 'Romeo and Juliet,'" Daniels explained, "but the first pool was built on a sound stage and flooded with artificial light which we could control.

"For exterior water reflections we were faced with a more difficult problem because we cannot control sunlight. However, we believe we have achieved perfection in photographic exterior water reflections as beautifully as they appear to the naked eye."

Spanish War Wipes Out Landmarks Used For Film Sets

The Spanish Civil War has wiped out old landmarks which were copied by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer research and art departments as sets for "The Firefly." Jeanette MacDonald, Allan Jones and Warren Williams are in the leading roles.

The Basque country now under fire is reproduced in sequences of the film, coming today to the Atlas Theatre, an ancient Inn outside Victoria having been copied for one of the principal sets.

The original of the Madrid Cafe, shown in the opening sequence, in which Jeanette MacDonald dances, no longer stands, according to wires received from M.G.M.'s Paris office, and the film settings themselves and their reproduction will be the only permanent record of many of those old buildings, now wrecked by shell fire.

Dominion Books Charlie Chan

"Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo," starring Warner Oland, opens tomorrow at the Dominion for a three-day engagement. Hailed as the best and most thrilling adventures of the famous Earl Derr Biggers' detective character, the story concerns a feud between two tycoons of finance. The action and mystery follow the disappearance of a valuable shipment of bonds and the subsequent murder of a chauffeur. Charlie Chan solves the crime in his usual adept manner, but with greater thrills than ever before.

LANGFORD

Pupils at St. John's Church, Colwood, and St. Matthew's Church, Langford, were entertained in the Langford Women's Institute Hall Wednesday evening. Games were enjoyed and an amateur Major Bowes concert was presented. Johnny Gow presented a Punch and Judy and marionette show.

At a meeting of the Langford and Colwood A.Y.P.A., to be held in the Legion Hall on Tuesday at 8, a schedule of the year's programme will be given.

The annual meeting of St. Matthew's Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Hines, Holmwood, on Wednesday at 2.30.

SOCCER TEAMS PLAY TO DRAW

The lead again. A couple of minutes later Payne again started the combination that terminated with another. Morgan took the pass and gave it to John Watt, who made it count.

Alex Ross's two goals in the closing stages of the battle saved the day for the Wednesday Football League. He was assisted by Gordy Bell, who played a steady game, and Jimmy Oakman. George Payne had a fine opportunity to give the Saturday lads victory with four minutes of the battle remaining, but his shot hit the upright and Lloyd Cann cleared.

J. C. Dowds refereed. The teams follow:

"WELLS FARGO" IS TRAIL EPIC

Dramatic Background Provided in Current Picture at Capitol

The historic Wells Fargo Trail — the lane which connected St. Louis with San Francisco in early gold days — and the men who made and maintained it in the face of Indians, bandits and nature, forms the dramatic background for "Wells Fargo," the motion picture now at the Capitol Theatre.

Called by some "The Lifeline of Empire" because of the important part it played in welding together a sprawling nation as it existed in 1850-70, the story of the Wells Fargo Trail is one of the most dramatic and romantic in history.

It came into being shortly after gold was discovered, when a swift and safe means had to be found to transport the gold from the mines and, equally important, to bring mail and news into the roaring mining camps. The firm of Wells, Fargo and Company, forerunners of today's Railway Express Agency, was organized to fill this need.

The task of planning and opening the trails is handled in the picture by Joel McCrea. A man of vision and courage, he is forced to leave his wife, played by Frances Dee, as the trail takes him farther and farther west. Unable to understand her husband, a rift occurs. There are patch-ups and reconciliation, but as time goes on — the story traces the fortunes of the family for two generations — a break finally occurs.

The climax is reached after the war between the states when McCrea and Miss Dee are brought together again.

The brilliant supporting cast of "Wells Fargo" is headed by Bob Burns in his first "straight" role. Others in the cast of over 100 are Lloyd Nolan, Henry O'Neill, Porter Hall, Robert Cummings, Ralph Morgan, Mary Nash, John Mack Brown and Barlowe Borland.

UNUSUAL TITLE IS EXPLAINED

"Internes Can't Take Money" Showing at Oak Bay

"Internes can't take money." This is the simple explanation of the unusual title, "Internes Can't Take Money," the drama with Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea, which comes to the Oak Bay Theatre today, given by Dr. John J. Tomas, technical adviser on the production.

The odd title, Dr. Tomas explained, is due to the fact that internes, who are graduate physicians required to have practical experience in hospitals before they are admitted to practice, usually receive room, board and about $10 a month for expenses in exchange for this experience.

"Internes are expressly forbidden to take money or gifts of any kind for any services which they perform, because they are not licensed to practice," Tomas explained. "An interne caught taking money as a fee for any service or operation is subject to immediate dismissal from any hospital."

"McCrea, playing the role of a young interne in this production, is offered a gift of $1,000 for performing an operation and he refuses it, although he could put it to good use. His operation has saved the life of a gangster. The gangster repays McCrea by helping him out of a tight spot which climaxes the story."

Despite a popular idea that California's "Big Trees" thrive only in that corner of the world, such trees have been successfully planted in Switzerland and a number of other countries.

Life in Ancient Egypt

I—Robbers—and Tired Workers.

The richer class in ancient Egypt had locks for doors. The locks were crude wooden affairs, sometimes only bolts; but when the family left the home, mud was plastered over the lock and the family seal was pressed against the mud. There was supposed to be heavy punishment for any one opening a door fastened in this manner.

Laborers in ancient Egypt

We read in one of the pieces of writing which have come down to us that robbers once entered the home of a certain man. They took away two large loaves of bread and three cakes, as well as two jars of fruit. The owner came home at night and was filled with anger. Going to the chief of police, he said: "I believe that the thieves were hired men of the master mason, Nakhtmout."

It so happened that the chief of police of the town had married a sister of the master mason. No attempt was made to punish the mason's men.

The poor had so little to lose that they seldom took the pains to put locks on their doors. The workman's wife was quite sure to be home, anyway, while her husband was at his labors.

Workingmen had a hard life in Egypt 3,500 years ago. One of the writers of the time seems to have thought about this, and tells us:

"The blacksmith works at his forge, and gets as black as fish-spawn. The men who work with chisels have no more rest than farmers. They are called out even during the night, and work again after the labor of the day. The barber shaves even in the night, and must go from place to place in search of work. The mason works in hard stone. He must be in the workyard at sunrise, even if his knees and back are breaking with the toil. The dyer's fingers smell of dead fish. His eyes ache because they are so tired. His hand never stops putting in pieces of cloth and leather."

Perhaps that poet made the picture a little too dark, but it is true that the workers began their tasks at sunrise and did not return home until after sunset. At the middle of day, there was usually an hour or two for lunch and sleeping. Sometimes there was laughing and joking among the men at work.

Money was little used in Egypt, and was seldom or never used for wages. A worker was likely to receive on his "pay-day" a bushel or two of grain, some oil, and a small portion of salt meat. On feast days, his master might give him a jar of wine or beer.

Students May Ban Public Petting

Girls Getting New Ideas

THE STUDENT NEWSPAPER of one of our largest co-educational universities has started a campaign to suppress public petting, and asks the school authorities to take vigorous measures to chase Cupid off the campus.

Let us hope and pray that this reform will sweep the country, for there is no other one thing that gets more upon the nerves of the holders and fills us with a greater nausea than the spectacle of modern youth doing its love-making with a total disregard of the time, the place and the proprieties that makes us blush for those who have no sense of shame for themselves. A cynic has said that there are things that are worse than immoral. They are in bad taste. And this is one of them.

Now considering petting, there are three schools of thought. The one held by the petters is that it is an innocent diversion and that, anyway, it is nobody's business where they do it, and that if it makes other people slightly queasy to look at long-drawn-out kisses they can shut their eyes and go hang. And bad cess to them!

The contention of the moralists, on the other hand, is that playing with TNT or airplane stunting or automobile racing are safe sports for the young compared to petting parties. They say that a boy and girl can get as drunk on kisses as they can on bootleg liquor and be just as irresponsible for what they do as any sot who stumbles over the brink of a cliff into the precipice below.

They say that petting is the first aid to most of the unsuitable marriages that end in divorce; that it is the top of the slide whose bottom is Avernus for girls; that if the Boy Friend would sit on one side of the room and the Girl Friend on the other and megaphone their sentiments to each other it would save them, and the balance of the world, a lot of trouble.

The third point of view on petting, which is that of most of us, is—oh, well, the youngsters are going to pet. Nobody can stop 'em. All we ask is that they do it in private and not force us to have to assist, as the French say, in their billing and cooing.

We are tired of seeing girls with their arms draped around youths who are driving automobiles and are so distracted between love and guiding the car that they are a menace to everybody on the street. We are sick of looking at cuddly little things at the movies with their heads pillowed on the shoulders of their escorts. We are so fed up with boys walking with their arms around their sweeties. And we are, oh, so weary of beholding all the kissing and fondling and the necking and hand-holding of calf lovers. It would be such a blessed relief if only the petters would do their petting at home instead of abroad.

One wonders, anyway, what is the matter with the young people that they do not realize that there is a time and a place for all things, as the Good Book says. Do they not know that the thing that is beautiful and poetic in one setting is common and vulgar in another? Is love to them only a physical thrill? Is there nothing sacred to them about it that makes them want to hide it in their holy of holies, and that would make them feel that it was profaned if they dragged it down the streets and called upon the rabble to look at it? Are lovers' kisses no longer a sacrament, but something for the candid camera?

Have young people no sense of humor that they do not see what figures of fun they make of themselves when they do not their courtship in public? "All the world loves a lover," says an old proverb, but it also loves to laugh at him when he displays his emotions like any bumpkin. Why people should look ridiculous and common and unsophisticated when they are petting and caressing each other, I don't know. They just do. It is easier to understand why we are always embarrassed at the spectacle of public petting. It is because we feel that we are seeing something that should have been private and that we should not see.

So it is good news that the young are going to crusade against petting. It will spare us oldsters our blushes.

Titlists Defy Card Count

Team of Four Champions Flout Tradition, Scoring Six Clubs and Four Hearts on One Hand

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

Bridge players are too prone, perhaps, to lay their bad results to the run of the cards, and when they lose, feel that it was the pasteboards and not the use they made of them that was at fault.

team, and six clubs were made. West opened on distribution, not quick tricks.

At the table where Goren and Mrs. Young were North and South, respectively, Mrs. Young passed and West also passed. Goren opened with four hearts, which was passed all around, and four hearts were made for a score of 620. Thus each pair of the team was plus on the same board. The secret of the result seemed to be that the new champions are not tradition bound. West does not have an opening bid, measured by the 2½ or three honor trick requirement and when West passed at Goren's table, he bid his hand to the limit and made a game against a laydown slam for East and West.

As a matter of fact, the good bridge player is tested much more correctly with the breaks he makes in defiance of the cards. Team of four play, especially, shows up the human element. Take as an example, today's hand, played in the recent national championship tournament held in Washington in which the team of Charles H. Goren, Mrs. Ralph C. Young, Charles J. Solomon and John Crawford, all of Philadelphia, beat out 24 of the nation's leading teams.

This was the bidding at the table where Jackson and Solomon were the East and West pair of the new national championship

He was a veteran member of

SHIP ASHORE AT VANCOUVER

Ms. Limerick Grounded in First Narrows But Later Freed

VANCOUVER (CP)—The New Zealand motorship Limerick was freed today from the rocks at the entrance to Vancouver harbor, where she grounded last night.
The 8,684-ton freighter, inbound from the Fiji Islands with a cargo of 7,000 tons of sugar, was believed undamaged. Her bow wedged on the rocky bottom of the First Narrows, inlet to the harbor. She floated off at high tide this morning.

The West Vancouver ferry, plying across the First Narrows from Vancouver, grounded lightly early today during a fog which enveloped the waterfront. She was refloated within 15 minutes, apparently undamaged.

Ms. Limerick, inbound from Suva, passed through quarantine here at 11.30 yesterday morning and proceeded to Vancouver.

Electric Engines For South Africa

MANCHESTER, England (CP)—
South African government-operated railways, among the most modern electric roads in the world, have placed an order for 20 new locomotives. The order for 1,200 horsepower, 66-ton locomotives operating at 3,000 volts —is in addition to 22 locomotives recently ordered. Total cost of the new equipment is more than £500,000 ($2,500,000).

GOOD LUMBER EXPORT YEAR

A total of 73,000,000 feet of lumber went over the Canadian National docks at Ogden Point for export during the year 1937.
It was announced today by C. W.
Tourtellotte, dock superintendent.

This compares with 91,000,000 feet in 1936, but the 18,000,000 feet decrease last year is explained by the establishment of the new lumber exporting port at Cowichan Bay, which handled 20,000,000 feet, which otherwise would have passed through the Victoria assembly plant.

Out of 187 ships which berthed at the Canadian National docks during 1937, 124 were lumber carriers.

Ten ships were handled in January, eight in February, seven in March, nine in April, nine in May, 10 in June, 15 in July, 12 in August, 14 in September, 11 in October, six in November and 10 in December.

APPARATUS IS MIST-PIERCING

Invention Claimed to Penetrate 50 Miles Through Fog

MANCHESTER, England (CP)—
W. P. Chown of Hale claims his new invention, when perfected, will permit airplane pilots and mariners to "see" 50 miles through darkness or fog, and even "be able to identify and avoid objects which carry no lights."

The inventor is collaborating with experts to perfect his mist-piercing apparatus, and a company is being formed to assist in its development.

The apparatus consists of a camera which takes photographs by infra-red rays, a developing and fixing device, and a projector which shows a film on a screen.
(Infra-red photography utilizes invisible infra-red waves instead of the visible light rays. Darkness or fog have no effect on the resultant photographs.)

"We hope that before long we shall have perfected the apparatus so it will show an instan-taneous picture of the view ahead," Chown explained recently. "At the moment there is a lag of some seconds between the taking of the picture and its appearance on the screen."

Big Shipping Year On Great Lakes

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A Great Lakes shipping company executive here termed the 1937 season "one of the most prosperous sailing years in the history of the Great Lakes."

Adam E. Cornelius Sr., of a Buffalo transportation firm, declared: "The demand for bottoms was so great that the ships out of commission since the beginning of the depression were serviced."

The Buffalo Courier-Express compiled unofficial estimate on the year's aggregate tonnage at 138,980,000 tons. This figure is greater by nearly half a million than the 1929 tonnage of 138, 574,441.

MOVES OFFICES

William M. Allan, general agent in Victoria for the American Mail Line and Pacific Steamship Lines today was installed in his new offices at 205 and 206 Bel-

Mr. Allan, the dean of trans-stalled in his new offices which overlook the Inner Harbor from the second story of the Belmont Block at the corner of Government and Humboldt Streets.

The American Mail Line took over the new offices on January 1. Fifteen years have elapsed since Mr. Allan took over the general agency of Pacific Steamship Lines and American Mail Line, opening offices at 801 Government Street in 1922. Prior to that time the agency had been held by Rihet Consolidated Ltd., with Mr. Allan then in charge of the shipping department.

In 1925 the American Mail and Pacific Steamship Lines offices were removed from 901 to 909 Government Street, which has been the transportation headquarters of the joint services up to the time of the transfer with the opening of this year.

Leslie Pelling continues as Mr.
Allan's assistant agent.

MODAVIA IN PORT

Ms. Modavia, Capt. W. T. Mit-where she tied up about 1:30.—The Modavia came in direct from sea and after discharging freight here will proceed to Seattle, thus reversing the customary pro-

Her cargo includes bananas from Guayaquil, Ecuador, and citrus fruits from southern Cali-

FRED WELLS BACK

Fred B. Wells, Canadian Pacific city ticket agent, is back at his post in the Government Street offices today after spending the last two months in England and France.

Mr. Wells, accompanied by his wife, crossed the Atlantic from Britain to visit his old home in Quebec by the liner Empress of Birmingham after 18 years absence.

He crossed the English Channel from Southampton to Le Havre, and spent Armistice Day in Paris.

Mr. Wells says England is very prosperous with the rearmament programme well under way and with housing and municipal improvement schemes giving employment to many people.

Britain is also making great strides industrially. "They do not look upon this new prosperity as a boom, but expect it to continue," he said. "And they are not talking war over there."

Plan Changed In Salvaging Beulah

Pumping Scheme Fore and Aft Adopted in Place of Cofferdam

The entire plan of raising the sunk motorship Beulah at the Canadian National docks was changed today.

Crews of the Pacific Salvage Company, directed by W. G. Jo-dan, were engaged this morning on the new scheme which involves the lifting of the vessel at both ends.

Pumping operations will be carried on from the forepeak and engineroom, the bulkheads then being punctured and the hatches sealed.

By this method, it is understood, the Beulah will be brought to the surface more cheaply than would be the case if the original cofferdam plan was adhered to.

The timber for the proposed cofferdam, piled at the end of the dock, will not be required if the plan now being followed is successful. The new plan will also prove quicker.

With the powerful centrifugals at work great streams of water will be pouring from the Beulah's hull as she gradually emerges from her watery resting place.

Tremendous interest is being evinced in the salvage operations by the public, the docks being a popular resort for motorists, cyclists and pedestrians.

Hundreds visited the scene over the New Year holiday. Because of the danger from the explosive gasoline cargo the area in the immediate vicinity of the wreck has been fenced off.

FOG MISHAP AT SEATTLE

Tanker Hagan Bumped Into Shipyards and Damaged
Fishing Boats

SEATTLE (AP)—The Los Angeles tanker Hagan ran aground on Harbor Island in this morning's fog, crashing into a shipyard and crushing two fishing boats drawn out on the ways.

The 6,500-ton vessel of the Pennsylvania Shipping Company was outward bound for Los Angeles after discharging an oil cargo. The 416-foot craft struck the shore with such force she skidded out of the water a quarter of her length.

L. Delvin, owner of the Delvin Shipyards, where the Hagan grounded, said damage would be "several thousand dollars."

The fishing boats damaged were the City of Blaine and the Two Brothers, both on the ways for repairs.

Capt. S. Smith explained the Hagan lost her bearings in the heavy fog.

Third largest of the seas of the world, Bering Sea, has an average depth of only 900 feet.
